The University of Illinois at Chicago has adopted this Student Loan Code of Conduct to serve as the formal guiding principles in insuring the integrity of the student aid process and ethical conduct of employees in regard to student loan practices. The Student Loan Code of Conduct applies to all employees who work in the Office of Student Financial Aid and all other University of Illinois at Chicago employees, including agents of the University, who have responsibilities related to educational loans or other forms of student financial aid. The Student Loan Code of Conduct has been established to meet the requirements contained in the 2008 Higher Education Opportunity Act. Items in this Code of Conduct provide additional standards of conduct for employees with responsibility for student financial aid and do not replace any existing or future requirements imposed by the State of Illinois or the University of Illinois at Chicago related to codes of conduct, conflict of interest policies, ethics training, or other such requirements.

The Student Loan Code of Conduct also confirms that the University of Illinois at Chicago does not have preferred lender arrangements of any kind or a preferred lender list.
